

Scientific Name:	Sansevieria hyacinthoides
Common Name(s):	Mother-in-law's tongue , bowstring hemp
Family:	Agavaceae

Height:	Up to four feet
Leaves:	The long, linear leaves are usually green with contrasting darker green stripes but may have yellow and/or white stripes along the edges or may have yellow cross bands.
Flowers:	White to green flowers on an unbranched spike.
Bark:	N/A
Fruit:	Small orange unremarkable berry.
Other:	A common houseplant, very tolerant of varying conditions.
Treat-ment:	Foliar with 5% Garlon 4 in water or oil.
Rank & Reason:	FLEPPC: 2; FKETF: 1; Spreads from landscaping and establishes where dumped. Responsible for invasion of many acres of Keys hammocks.
Origin:	Tropical Africa
AlterNatives:	Spider Lily, Barbwire Cactus, Prickly pear cactus.

